

very outset, are quite technical in nature. Senator Schmit and Senator Pirsch have focused on the only real substantive change and that only substantive change does deal with underreported or inadequately reported personal property and whether or not the local assessor has any ability, has any flexibility in putting under or inadequately reported property on the tax rolls at something less than full value during the time period of underreporting, and under the amendment, the local assessor would have no flexibility. Now, I guess I was a little bit evasive, not evasive, but wishy-washy with Senator Schmit in his question on this point. As far as I am concerned, I can't think of any reason, I can't think of one reason to allow a taxpayer to have property assessed at something less than the value of that property when you have known that that is less than the value of the property when that is discovered, and the like. So, this is one of those areas where I think that the penalty should be mandated as opposed to being discretionary, and with that I would move the amendment.
